

To whom it may concern,

Prior to registering with Indiana's no call list my husband and I were bothered with no less than 5 unsolicited and intrusive telemarketer calls per week. We both work and value our leisure time and do not appreciate the disturbance of nuisance calls. There are many other forms of advertising available to these companies and I should be allowed to control intrusions into my home and that is what I consider telemarketer calls- home intrusions. Please do not weaken the no call law in Indiana. Thankyou.
